JOINT STATUS REPORT

Pursuant to the Court's Order of January 31, 2007 (No. 8540), the United States and the State of New Mexico ("parties") file this Joint Status Report on the negotiations regarding the resolution of the United States' Wild and Scenic Rivers Act ("WSRA") claim for the Rio Chama. As the parties previously informed the court, after attempting to negotiate the WSRA claims for the Chama and Jemez Rivers simultaneously, the parties decided it would be more efficient to complete the Jemez process before turning their attention to the Chama. The United States and the State have agreed to a Consent Order for the Jemez that has been fully approved by all the parties to that proceeding. However, Judge Smith raised the question of whether an expedited inter se is need to complete that proceeding. The parties are currently researching several issues related to Judge Smith's request and have a scheduling conference with him on February 20.

The parties intend to renew their efforts on the Chama as soon as the Jemez proceedings are completed. Even assuming Judge Smith agrees no inter se is presently needed, the parties will not be able to begin their efforts until after the close of New Mexico's legislative session as several of the State's personnel have commitments o the legislature that effectively prevent them from working on this.

Prior to the decision to concentrate on the Jemez, the parties made significant progress on the Chama. The parties anticipate being able to pick things up where they left off and to be able to bring this proceeding to a relatively prompt closure.

DATED this 16TH day of February, 2007.

Respectfully Submitted,
